ABOUT SOHO

Soho started with a simple idea: to create a place where people don't just come to eat or drink — they come to feel something.

When I first created Soho, I wanted it to be more than just a bar.
I wanted a place with its own personality — a place where good food, great drinks, music, and people come together naturally.

Over time, Soho has grown, and so has the idea behind it.

Today, our kitchen brings together Italian inspiration, Mediterranean influences, and Egyptian character, using fresh ingredients, homemade touches, and dishescreated to be shared, enjoyed, and remembered.

Behind the bar, we believe drinks should be more than something in a glass.
From classic cocktails to creative creations, every drink is part of the experience.

And then there is the atmosphere — the music, the lights, the conversations, the laughter, the energy of the night.

Soho is constantly evolving.
We listen, we experiment, we create, and we keep looking for the next idea that makes the experience better.

Being in Port Ghalib, surrounded by the Red Sea, also gives Soho a responsibility.
We believe in respecting the sea, protecting our reefs and marine life, and reducing unnecessary plastic wherever we can.

Because for us, Soho is not just about what is on the plate or in the glass.

It's about the people around the table, the moments that happen here, and the memories they take with them.

Welcome to Soho.
Eat well. Drink well. Feel the vibe.
